Los Angeles. Memorial Library, Los Angeles.

The Alumni Memorial window is designed in the Heraldic style and in harmony with the architecture of the library which follows the English Manor style of the Tudor period. The entire building is in accord with the architecture of the Los Angeles High School.

The symbols and insignia are shown as decoration on the shields and are carried across the top row of windows representing the various divisions of the Army, Navy, Marines Engineers and Aviation.

The second row of shields carry the national coat of arms; the arms of the State of California; the City of Los Angeles; and the Los Angeles High School. There is depicted the towers of the old and the New High School Buildings. The school motto is spread across the bottom of this row: "Obedience to Law. Respect for others. Mastery of Self. Joy of Service; these constitute Life."

The lower row of lights* have the memorial tablets giving the name of the alumni who died in the service. The shields in the side lights carry the emblem of "Sacrifice" pictured by the Legend of the Pelican and an heraldic arrangement of the poem "In Flanders Fields."

Across the base of the window is the inscription "Dedicated to the Alumni of the Los Angeles High School who died in the World War. 1914-1918. May the sacrifice of these lives contribute to the establishment of peace among nations."

In consideration of the educational purpose of this Library there has been scattered throughout this window on the geometrical field pictorial illustrations of the Arts and Sciences.
