REPORT
OF THE
BOARD OF DIRECTORS
OF THE
Los Angeles Public Library

DECEMBER, 1901.

To the Council of the City of Los Angeles:

Gentlemen; In accordance with the requirements of the City Charter, the Board of Directors of the Los Angeles Public Library herewith submit their report for the year ending November 30th, 1901:

This Board went into office under appointment of the Mayor, Hon. M. P. Snyder, on April 2, 1901.

Attached hereto and made a part hereof is the report to us of the Librarian of the Los Angeles Public Library, which furnishes a detailed statement of the operations of the Library, and contains all the data required by the City Charter, and to which reference is hereby made for full particulars.

Librarian's
Report

For the current fiscal year ending June 30th, 1902, your honorable body wisely allotted to the Library as its portion of the $1.00 tax rate limit, four and five-tenths cents on each $100.00 of assessed valuation, thereby giving us an estimated sum of $31,654.79, which furnished about $1500.00 more than was allowed for Library purposes the preceding year. In addition it may be remarked that we have had more money for this current year than has ever been allotted to our Library in any year of its existence.

Financial

REPORT
OF THE
BOARD OF DIRECTORS
OF THE
Los Angeles Public Library

DECEMBER, 1901.

To the Council of the City of Los Angeles:

Gentlemen; In accordance with the requirements of the City Charter, the Board of Directors of the Los Angeles Public Library herewith submit their report for the year ending November 30th, 1901:

This Board went into office under appointment of the Mayor, Hon. M. P. Snyder, on April 2, 1901.

Attached hereto and made a part hereof is the report to us of the Librarian of the Los Angeles Public Library, which furnishes a detailed statement of the operations of the Library, and contains all the data required by the City Charter, and to which reference is hereby made for full particulars.

Librarian's
Report

For the current fiscal year ending June 30th, 1902, your honorable body wisely allotted to the Library as its portion of the $1.00 tax rate limit, four and five-tenths cents on each $100.00 of assessed valuation, thereby giving us an estimated sum of $31,654.79, which furnished about $1500.00 more than was allowed for Library purposes the preceding year. In addition it may be remarked that we have had more money for this current year than has ever been allotted to our Library in any year of its existence.

Financial

Nevertheless, the ever growing demand upon our finances more than offsets such increased allowance, and it is a constant source of anxiety on the part of this Board to reduce necessary and legitimate expenditures to the amount of our income.

Appointment of Assistant Librarian

Recognizing the necessity of so doing, this Board filled the position of Second Assistant Librarian, then vacant, by the appointment of Miss Nora Miller on June 14th, 1901, to take effect July 1st, 1901, and in promoting her to this position we strictly observed the Civil Service rules of the Library that have been in force for the past ten years and more.

Library Force

Under the supervision of this Board, the Library is now conducted by a Librarian, two Assistant Librarians, ten principals of departments and twenty-two general attendants, besides two employees, who attend to the janitor service.

Salary List

The present monthly salary list of the Library now aggregates the sum of $1307.50.

We do not believe that there is another department of the city government which is administered as economically as the library, and in which the employees are more poorly paid for the services rendered. * * *

Library Training Class

Since the establishment of the Library Training Class in 1891 there have been graduated therefrom 64 members, of whom there are none now remaining who are eligible for and desirous of positions as Library attendants. Therefore, considering the future needs of the Library, we appointed eight young ladies to the fourteenth Library Training Class instead of six, the usual number. In this connection we are happy to state that other libraries frequently call upon our Library for assistance and request the occasional and sometimes the permanent services of our graduates, many of whom are winning distinguished places in the library world.

Volumes,
Membership and Circulation

The library has now 67,354 volumes, 4107 pamphlets, 417 maps and 3336 pictures.

There are 22,015 registered card holders entitled to library privileges. During the past year 472,543 volumes have been circulated for home use, and 191,296 volumes for immediate use in the library rooms.

Ever since 1892 there has been more or less agitation for a separate library building which would enable our citizens to take advantage of the opportunities of our library for study, research and recreation. What heretofore has been a demand for more convenient and commodious quarters has now, however, become an actual and impelling necessity. The library at present occupies the entire third floor of the City Hall, has filled the garret, and is even now crowding the cellar. If there is any other space in, near or about the City Hall that the City Council has not already set aside for other public uses, or if so set aside, can nevertheless be reassigned for library purposes, we herewith make application therefor; for something must at once be done to relieve our already overcrowded condition and make room for future accessions. Because of a lack of room the library staff is also seriously hampered in properly serving the public.

New Library
Quarters
Needed

Unless the situation is soon improved, the board fears that it will be obliged to close the general newspaper and reading room and devote the space now occupied by it for the storage of books. This, however, cannot be accomplished except at the expense of hundreds of library patrons who are least able to afford such a decided change. The well-to-do residents, and those fairly circumstanced in life, most usually take away their reading matter and enjoy it amid the comforts and environments of the home, but many of the library patrons are tourists having no local abode except the hotel, to which they do not care to take the library literature. Many others merely room out, and it is inconvenient for them to take from the library books or magazines (papers not being permitted to be withdrawn,) and there is the large number of students who require proper space to pursue their investigations and study with some degree of comfort, and for whom the suggestion of withdrawing their study materials will be well nigh impossible. Such patrons and many others will suffer greatly the loss or suppression of the reading room. But what can this Board do? More space is absolutely required. Books must be bought from year to year to keep the library abreast of the times; more books must be purchased to bring the library down to these times. The city is growing in population at a wonderful rate. In 1880 we had 11,311 inhabitants; in 1890, 50,000; in 1900, 101,000, and now we count our population at approximately 120,000. Needless to say, our library patrons increase proportionately. They must be taken care of. The needs of the public must be attended to. For after the public school system the library ranks next in importance in the community. The imperious call for additional space can not be satisfied, so far as the City Hall is concerned. Possibly temporary makeshifts may abate for a few months, or a year at best, the present imperative necessity, but occasional patchwork relief will serve only to whet the library building appetite, which, "Phoenix like," must soon arise to add an additional feature to our municipal financial puzzle.

We all know that the long-talked-of and much-needed library building can only be made possible by the proper award of public funds or the generous prompting of private donation.

As to the latter source our efforts have so far been unavailing, but as it is said, "hope springs eternal in the human breast," we have cherished the expectation that Mr. Carnegie, the distinguished philanthropist, or some other equally munificent donor, would remember our necessities. But in the absence of a definite promise we must look to other means.

As to the first mentioned source, we find that our present City Charter provides that its bonded indebtedness must not exceed, in the aggregate, two million dollars, except for the purpose of providing water works for the city and establishing and constructing a sewer system.

From the latest obtainable reports we find that the total sum of the city's bonded indebtedness (exclusive of water works and sewer bonds) amounted on November 30, 1901, to $976,125.00.

The city can therefore vote additional bonds to the extent of $1,000,000.00 and over. Now is the time, when in our opinion, the needs of the library may be properly left to a vote of the people. A library building and its equipment commensurate with the importance of our city, and the demands of the library will cost not less than $350,000.00, exclusive of the site. As the question of voting sewer and school bonds is now also being agitated, we ask your Honorable Body, when placing other bonding propositions before the people to submit at the same time, the matter of voting the issuance of bonds in the sum of $350,000.00 for the construction and equipment of a library building.

In conclusion we desire to thank the library force for its assiduous and uniform attention to duty, and we hereby gratefully acknowledge, on behalf of the library, its patrons and ourselves, our debt of gratitude to you, gentlemen of the Council, for your past consideration for library needs, and earnestly pray for its continuance.

Respectfully submitted,

J. ROSS CLARK,

Report of Librarian

1900-1901

To the Board of Directors of the Los Angeles Public Library:

Gentlemen: I have the honor to submit the thirteenth annual report of the Los Angeles Public Library, covering the year ending November 30th, 1901.

The condition of the library, together with the work accomplished, is herewith presented by departments and in tabulated statements:

FINANCIAL STATEMENT.

The City Council apportioned to the Library Fund for the fiscal year ending June 30th, 1902, four and five-tenths cents ($.045) on each one hundred dollars of taxable property in the city, amounting under the present assessed valuation, to thirty-one thousand, six hundred fifty-four dollars and seventy-nine cents ($31,654.79). As will be seen in Appendix 8, this rate has been equalled but once before in the history of the library. With the increase of the assessed valuation of the city, the library's income is now more nearly adequate to its needs than ever before, the maximum limit of five cents having never yet been apportioned.

CIRCULATION.

During the year just closed the library was open for the exchange of books 303 days, and the reference and reading rooms were open 362 days. Aside from the regular Christmas closing the building was closed upon the occasion of the President's visit to the city during the Fiesta, May 9th, and again upon the day of the funeral, September 19th.

Detailed statements of the year's circulation will be found in its various phases in Appendixes 4, 5, 6 and 7, also in the special reports under individual departments. In the case of the home circulation the figures are accurate, the results of definite records. The statement of the library use is an estimate being simply the number of books left upon the reading tables and replaced on the shelves by attendants. As a basis of comparison with our work from time to time, it is, of course, useful, and may form a fair basis of comparison with other libraries having open access to the shelves. No attempt is made to record the use of newspapers and magazines in the reading rooms, nor of the number of readers except in the reference room and general library.

Among the notable events of the year was the granting of non-fiction cards to readers. This privilege was voted by the Board in January, and 13,000 additional cards have been issued to date. The crowded condition of the library has its effect upon the home use of books, both retarding and increasing circulation. Situated as the library is, on the third floor of the City Hall, but one small elevator is forced to do duty for the entire building, and the service is wholly inadequate to the demand placed upon it. In addition the corridors and reading rooms are so crowded that many would-be readers are kept away from the library entirely. On the other hand the reading rooms are so small, the ventilation so imperfect, and the noise of the street below, and of the people passing through the rooms so annoying, that many who would prefer to read at the library content themselves with books for home use only.

REGISTRATION.

Unexpired (estimated) .....	6,500
Re-registration, December 1st, 1900.....	7,177
Re-registration for the year (men) .....	2903
Re-registration for the year (women) .....	4967

Notices sent .....	727
Contagious disease notices sent.....	301
Lost card checks issued.....	1,296
Change of address noted.....	1,937
Non-fiction cards issued.....	13,000

The re-registration of patrons under the new system was commenced November 8th, 1899, and has yet one year to run before an accurate report of the number of live members can be made.

Under the revision of the rules and regulations noted elsewhere two important changes were made directly affecting this department. Applicants for cards owning real estate in the city may dispense with guarantors. In addition to the regular cards issued to readers, non-fiction cards may be had upon application, a measure which has proved most popular. A new system of records was adopted in January whereby the original guarantor's cards and reader's applications are filed, rather than copies as heretofore, the clerical work of the department being much reduced in consequence.

Total pictures in Library.....		3,336
Volumes sent to binder.....	7,068
Volumes returned from binder.....	5,168
Volumes mended .....	34,053

A detailed statement of accessions by classes will be found in Appendix 3. In Appendix 8 is noted the number of volumes added during each of the seven years past, with the net number of volumes in the library at the close of each year. A gratifying increase in the working stock of the library is here set forth. Of the 10,549 volumes added during the past year, 287 were acquired by gift, a detailed list of those to whom the library is thus indebted being found in Appendix 10. The public documents acquired through the Superintendent of Documents and the various departments were 668 in number. Seventy-one volumes were books in the library, but not accessioned at the beginning of the year. Of books bought, 1,985 were purchased from the school library fund, and 7,538 were paid for from the general library fund. It should be noted that this year's expenditures also include the cost of 498 volumes of United States Patent Office publications purchased in October, but received too late to be included in this year's accessions.

The increase in the number of books bound and re-bound should be noted. Last year 4,673 volumes were bound at a cost of $1,492.84, or an average of 31.94 cents per volume. During the present year 5,168 volumes have been bound at a cost of $2,628.21, or an average of 46.79 cents per volume. The difference in the average price is due to a slight increase in the binding rate, and especially to the fact that a greater number of books have been bound in the more expensive materials, it being the present policy to bind all reference books in half morocco. The tri-yearly inventory took place during the months of January, February and March, with the result indicated in the foregoing table. Owing to the fact that the fiction department had been completely re-catalogued, and hence thoroughly checked, no further inventory was made, nor was there in the case of juvenile fiction, which is undergoing the same process. The number of volumes in the library, with its growth from year to year, has been based upon the accession records. In addition to the careful inventory, the books themselves have been counted during the year, and a discrepancy of 352 volumes is the result. This number may easily be accounted for by the fact that many pamphlets, plates, etc., originally accessioned as books are no longer shelf-listed as such. The net figure of 67,354 volumes may be considered as accurate by two different counts. While the inventory is made once in three years, it has not been feasible to state the exact number missed since it was last taken. The 1,524 volumes then is the total loss to the library in the thirteen years of its history.

CLASSIFICATION AND SHELF.

Number of volumes classified and shelf listed:

Classes, circulating, new .....	1,002
Classes, circulating, duplicate .....	1,498
Classes, circulating, juvenile .....	1,513
Classes, reference .....	1,306
Magazines, circulating .....	178
Re-classified .....	230

Total .....	5,727
-------------	-------

Fiction Cutter number assigned:

Adult .....	2,106
Juvenile, new .....	1,810
Juvenile, changed .....	1,000
Books discarded and noted in shelf list.....	453

New shelf sheets have been typewritten, one for official use and one for the public, covering each of the following classes: Music, Theology, French, German, Spanish, Italian, Philology, Useful Arts, Fine Arts, Social Science and Juvenile classes. The cumbersome shelf list of general fiction is being transferred from the sheets to the author or main card of the official catalogue. It is hoped that this measure will obviate the necessity of the frequent re-writing heretofore required. The work has progressed to the letter E. The re-numbering of juvenile fiction according to the Cutter and Sanborn tables is in progress, 1,000 volumes having been re-numbered and shelf listed.

CATALOGUING.

Number of volumes catalogued:

Accessions in Classes 300-900, inclusive .....	2927
Class 200 .....	1119
Fiction, adult .....	770
Fiction, juvenile .....	243
Classes 000-200 and music (bulletin cards only) .....	581

Total number of books .....	5397

Approximate number of cards added to catalogue, 20,200.

The important work of this department aside from the current cataloguing of accessions has been the completion of the cataloguing of Class 200, Religion, begun in September, 1899, and finished in November, 1901. Cards for about 1950 volumes in this class have been filed in the catalogue of the general library, greatly facilitating the use of this important group of books. Work on Class 100, Philosophy, will be undertaken at once, and being a relatively small class, there is every hope that it will be completed during the coming year.

A new catalogue of juvenile fiction has been undertaken simultaneously with the changing of the book numbers and will progress as opportunity affords. Duplicate cards for all accessions to the classes in the juvenile department are being made, forming the beginning of a second dictionary card catalogue for the special use of the school and juvenile departments. Heretofore, entries have been made in the main catalogue only.

The library has become a subscriber to the printed cards to be issued by the Library of Congress, as it was from the first of those issued by the Publishing Section of the American Library Association. It is hoped to take advantage of the increased facilities offered, not only in the case of current additions, but in the ultimate replacing of typewritten, by printed cards.

Net increase .....	2091
Total volumes .....	18,087
Books consulted .....	104,253
Pictures used .....	5314
Readers (estimated) .....	38,506

As in the general library, the statement of the number of books consulted is based upon the number replaced by the attendants, and falls far within the true state of affairs.

The work of this department, more than any other, is hampered by the crowded state of the library. The room devoted to its use is 24x27 feet. In this small room, filled with books on the walls and in floor cases, were accommodated not less than 38,000 readers. But a small portion of the reference books are really shelved in the reference room. The balance are placed wherever a spare shelf may be found; in the attic, the basement, the offices or in the fiction department, to reach which latter, three rooms and a corridor must be traversed. The removal of the documents from the attic to the basement was accomplished in January. Though the room secured is lighted and ventilated artificially, the convenience is so much greater and the menace to the safety of the building so much less, that the change is appreciated, and the use of the documents much facilitated. The record kept shows the use of the documents brought from this room to the main reference room only. Were it possible to preserve a count of all used in the document room, the figures would be much increased.

Aside from school and study club work, Class 600, Useful Arts, has been found to have the largest percentage of readers, works on engineering and mining being most called for. To meet this demand, besides numerous miscellaneous works, complete files have been added of the Transactions of the American Institute of Mining Engineers, of the American Institute of Electrical Engineers, Conventions of the National Electric Light Association, and the Specifications and Drawings of the Patent Office of the United States. Natural science stands next in use, and of this class botany is the subject most called for. Numerous works have been added during the year, prominent among which are: Bentham, Genera Plantarum; Engler and Prantl, Die Natürlichen Pflanzenfamilien; Müller, Eucalyptographia; Bentham and Müller, Flora Australiensis; Saccardo, Sylloge Fungorum.

The quarto edition of Audubon's "Birds of America," Nansen's "Norwegian North Polar Expedition," and the second series of Tryon's "Manual of Choncology" are further works of science added during the past year. Many works of value to the student of the history of the Spanish Southwest have been added, among which are to be found: Alcedo, Diccionario Geografico Historico de las Indias Occidentales; Beristain y Souza, Biblioteca Hispano Americana Sententrional; Sahagun, Historia General de Nueva España; Sanchez, Theatro Americano; Zanaoico, Historia de Mejico.

Of general works the following are among the most valued additions: Brockhaus, Konversations-Lexikon; Larousse, Nouveau Illustre Dictionnaire; Webster, International Dictionary (1900 edition); Thwaites, Jesuit Relations (completed); Dictionary of National Biography (completed); Halliwell, Dictionary of Archaic and Provincial Words; Wright, English Dialect Dictionary; Sturgess, Dictionary of Architecture and Building; Droysens, Historischer Hand Atlas; Müller, Handbuch der Klassischen Altertums Wissenschaft; Stieler, Hand Atlas; Munsell's American Ancestry.

Of magazines the following files have been completed; Athenaeum, Chamber's Journal, Chautauquan, Electric Engineering, Every Saturday, Geographical Journal, Harper's Weekly, International Studio, Notes and Queries, Pall Mall, Public Opinion.

Complete sets of the following have been added; American Catholic Quarterly Review, Architectural Record, Economic Journal, Cornhill, Macmillan, Magazine of Art, Munsey, Quarterly Journal of Economics. Various important bibliographies and reading lists have been prepared, a few of which are published in the Monthly Bulletin. In addition a list is given each month of the bibliographies prepared, which may be consulted in manuscript in the reference room.

Detailed statements of the circulation of books known as the "classes" shelved in this department will be found in Appendixes 4, 5 and 6, and a classification of additions with the total number in each class is set forth in Appendix 3. A gain of some twenty thousand volumes in circulation, or five per cent. over last year's use, is directly attributable to the use of non-fiction cards. The problem confronting us in this department is the question of book space. Additional shelving has been built during the year past, but this is practically exhausted, and the strength of the building forbids further extension. It is hoped that some solution of the problem may soon be reached.

Progress in this department has been most marked during the past year. The new catalogue of fiction, noted in my last report, was made available to the public early in the year both in its printed and card form. The card catalogue has been kept to date, and the printed finding list supplemented by current accessions noted in the Monthly Bulletin. The increase in circulation over last year has been 15,933. In spite of the increased facilities, however, the percentage of the circulation of fiction to the entire home circulation is but 45 per cent., against 55 per cent. last year, a state of affairs due no doubt to the extended use of non-fiction cards. During the past year the unusual demand for a popular half dozen novels has by no means equalled the call for the same number of most popular books of the year preceding. As gauged by the reserve postals, the following books stand first in popularity:

	Postals Sold.	Postals Mailed.
The Crisis .....	89	66
Alice of Old Vincennes .....	82	78
Eben Holden .....	80	71
Heritage of Unrest .....	79	79
Master Christian .....	58	62
Helmet of Navarre .....	34	30
	422	386

For the six most popular books of the preceding year 1094 postals were sold and 1091 mailed.

The statement of volumes given above records the actual number purchased from the school fund now in the library. The circulation of books to the schools is by no means limited to these, the entire library being drawn upon by the teachers. The purchases in this department are almost entirely duplicates, the library fund proper being drawn upon for new books. While the accessions for the year are considerable, it should be noted that nearly all were received during the summer and have been in use in the schools but two months and a half. In spite of this fact the circulation has increased 15,845 over last year. Of the 545 teachers in the city, 371 are drawing regularly the twenty volumes a month allowed them, against 223 out of 518 last year. In addition, 53 teachers in private schools are availing themselves of the four volumes at a time allowed them under the rules.

Of the 9766 volumes in the juvenile department, 564 are reference and are included in the count given by the reference department, it not being feasible to make a separate entry. The total number also includes many of the books reported with the school department since they are shelved together and drawn upon equally. The use of non-fiction cards among the children is quite extensive in spite of the fact that fairy tales may not be drawn upon them, and it frequently happens that both cards are used for the non-fiction books. Much help has come to the library from the opportunity afforded the principal of this department to address various Child Study Circles in the city on the subject of children's books and reading. Twenty circles have thus been visited and the effect upon the children's reading is noticeable. Much of the important work with children is accomplished at the branches upon which comment is made elsewhere.

BRANCH AND DELIVERY STATIONS.

A detailed statement of the work accomplished in each branch and delivery station is set forth in Appendix 7. The work of the branches is largely with children, though there is a growing use of books and magazines by adults. The Castalar Branch, located in the Settlements House, was discontinued November 1st, a steady decline in patronage being the principal reason for the step. Macy Street Reading Room commenced to circulate books January 1st, thereby becoming a regular branch. The privilege of drawing books has been greatly appreciated. The average for the year was 131 a month, and it is steadily increasing. During May and June the branch was closed for some six weeks owing to the prevalence of smallpox in the neighborhood. A gift of eight framed pictures from the Civic League has made the reading room very attractive. This branch is now open each evening, except Sunday, from six to nine, the School Board continuing to furnish room, lights and janitor service.

Central Avenue Branch was opened November 4th in a room rented, furnished and lighted by the citizens of that portion of the city. Some three hundred volumes are kept there permanently, with a small collection of magazines and papers, the last being donations. Deliveries from the main library are made twice a week, the service thereby combining the features of a regular delivery station with those of a branch. The record for the first month of 1298 readers and 477 books circulated for home use, is most encouraging.

Four delivery stations are now in operation. Boyle Heights was established last year, Hoover Street was started in January, East Los Angeles in October and Pico Heights in November. The circulation of 634 books in November, at an average cost of one and one-tenth cents a book seems to prove the wisdom of the plan.

The loaning of books to the various fire stations of the city has continued during the year with evident satisfaction.

PUBLICATIONS.

The new edition of Novels and Tales commented upon in the last report was ready for distribution December 4th, 1900. This is the first finding list printed since 1897, and has been greatly appreciated by our patrons. The Monthly Bulletin resumed publication after a lapse of eight years. The most important accessions are here recorded from month to month, together with bibliographies and reading lists upon timely and appropriate topics.

A revision of the Rules and Regulations of the library was made in January, and printed copies were ready for distribution in March. The routine work of the library has been greatly facilitated thereby.

ADMINISTRATION.

The resignation of Miss Putnam on account of her approaching marriage occurred in July. She has been a member of the staff for eight years and principal of the juvenile department since 1898, where her peculiar qualifications and long experience made her most valuable. In September Miss Jacobus resigned to accept the position of librarian in the Kamehameha Schools of Hawaii. Her three and a half years' service to the library has been invaluable and her resignation is a distinct loss.

Promotions for the year have been as follows: Miss Miller to second assistant librarian, Miss Clark to principal of the registry department, Miss Blanchard to principal of the juvenile department, Miss Smith, Miss Morgan, Miss Fagge, Miss Dancaaster and Miss Hindle to the day staff, and Miss Madison, Mrs. Jackson, Miss Witman, Miss White and Miss Andrews to the night staff.

The thirteenth training class graduated in May with four members, three of whom are already on the staff, the fourth not being eligible. The fourteenth class commenced work November 4th. Owing to the fact that but one substitute is waiting, the number of the present class was extended to eight.

In February Miss Beckley was granted two weeks' leave of absence to assist in the Public Library of Santa Barbara, and in September Miss Stella Beckley was given a similar leave which will probably extend till spring. In November Miss Shepard was given a two-month's leave of absence to supply the position of cataloguer in the Mechanics' Institute of San Francisco. The difficulty of service in our present quarters is increasing day by day, and too much cannot be said in commendation of the staff in the faithful performance of their duties.

To readers and the public generally is due the warmest appreciation of their patience and courtesy under the growing inconvenience of our crowded condition.

In conclusion, permit me to thank the Board of Directors for the cordial support given me at all times in carrying out the work of the library.

Respectfully submitted,

Dec. 6th, 1901.

MARY L. JONES
